Dated

Further Reading, Watching and Listening List

1. My main research has been done online, and by reading the 3 books listed below. However, and not reflected in this letter, is the myriad of other sources I used to try and educate myself on this topic and debate. Some are deliberately antagonistic, I have tried to recognise this and avoid people who shout the loudest and do not necessarily add to a respectful conversation.

2. The resources listed below try to engage in a respectful, compassionate manner. For example, not deliberately mis-gendering an individual and using the names they would like to be known as. They are considerate, well respected and intelligent women who deserve their voices to be heard and amplified.

3. Some of what is listed do not pertain directly to my request, but serve to highlight other social phenomena that women's rights activists have referenced.
